We do not hear with our eyes, but sometimes it almost seems as if we do. An environment-agency official tells a surprising incident about some people ①who lived in an apartment building close to a busy state highway. The families were made ②miserably by the noise, and they complained to the city government. City officials went to the state capital again and again to ask that something ③be done about quieting the highway noise. They were put off repeatedly. At last the city officials had an idea. They planted a single row of trees in front of the apartment house. The trees made hardly any difference in the amount of noise, but they ④did block the view of the highway. After that, there were very ⑤few complaints from the people in the building.
