

Part III Questions 41~45

Identify the option that contains an awkward expression or an error in grammar.

41. (a) A: So I hear that you're practically a professional chef.
(b) B: Well, I haven't had any training, but people seem to like my dishes.
(c) A: Is there anything in particular that you usually cooked?
(d) B: I make all sorts of dishes, but my specialty is Asian cuisine.
42. (a) A: What's the matter? Did your job interview not go well?
(b) B: I really messed up this morning. I feel like a completely fool.
(c) A: What happened at the interview? Don't worry, you can tell me.
(d) B: Actually, I forgot all about it and wound up oversleeping.
43. (a) A: Excuse me, is it necessary to take a placement test to enroll in this language course?
(b) B: No, all applicants begin at the introductory level and advance at the instructor's discretion.
(c) A: And is there just the one time slot, or is there some flexibility in the course schedule?
(d) B: Well, there is a class in the morning when is offered for part-time students only.
44. (a) A: Oh, no! We drove two hours to get to this beach, and now it's raining!
(b) B: Sorry, it's my fault for suddenly suggesting that we come here today.
(c) A: No, I wanted to come, too. But I do wish we had checked the forecast before setting out.
(d) B: Yeah, that would prevent all this needless driving. But I guess there's no use regretting it now.
45. (a) A: I can't believe you'll be done with high school this year! Do you have any college plans?
(b) B: Actually, I'm taking a year off before college beginning in order to travel to Europe.
(c) A: That sounds like a great vacation, but have you discussed it with your parents?
(d) B: Of course, and they were very supportive, saying that it's up to me to decide.

Part IV Questions 46~50

Identify the option that contains an awkward expression or an error in grammar.

46. (a) The most immediately noticeable thing about a butterfly is its striking color. (b) The tiny scales cover a butterfly's wings give it color and iridescence. (c) This bright coloring serves many different purposes in a butterfly's life. (d) For example, it is used to both attract mates and ward off predators.
47. (a) Sea lions are known to be adverse affected by changes in water temperature. (b) Such changes cause their body temperature to rise, making them more vulnerable to parasites. (c) Also, as water temperatures rise, their food sources migrate to cooler areas of the ocean. (d) There is then not enough food to keep young sea lions alive, and the sea lion population suffers.
48. (a) In many states, drivers are prohibited from using cell phones while driving. (b) Doing so seriously diminishes a driver's ability to control his or her vehicle. (c) Even using a hands-free cell phone can affect one's ability to concentrate fully at the road. (d) This is especially true during complex traffic situations and poor weather conditions.
49. (a) Hotels abound in the south of France, but the Majestic Hotel provides one-of-a-kind accommodations. (b) The stone rooms, with fine furnishings and fabrics, occupy what were formerly a nineteenth-century stable. (c) Throw open the window at night and enjoy the fresh air and an unobstructed view of the night sky. (d) And at dawn, experience the unforgettable spectacle of seeing our balloonist launch a rainbow of hot-air balloons.
50. (a) Empathy refers the ability to recognize and share another person's emotions. (b) Children are typically able to display empathetic behavior at about the age of two. (c) This is when they show emotional responses that correspond to those they have witnessed in others. (d) However, most kids under four do not understand that others have distinct thoughts and feelings.